RAILROAD NEWS

BRADSTREET'S VIEW

No Intention of Vanderbilts to Relinquish N. Y. Central Control.

Statements issuing from sources close to the Vanderbilt interests are confirmed that there has been no intention on the part of the members of that family to relinquish their control of the New York Central and its affiliated properties, says Bradstreets. It is also the general impression in Wall street that direct participation by the financiers who were closely connected with ciers who were closely connected with the late Mr. Harriman in the affairs of the Eric railroad need not be expected the Erie railroad need not be expected, the idea being that from now on the affairs of that corporation will, as was the case before Mr. Harriman personally intervened therein, be left to the guidance of the bankers formerly identified with the Erie. At the same time, it was noted that while this week's annual meeting of the Union Pacific resulted in sothing of an important character, as Wall street had imarined or acter, as Wall street had imagined, or even hoped, would be the case, the ad-dition of Messrs. De Forest and Schiff to the board of directors, together with Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., would plainly indicate that the alliance between the Harriman-Kuhn-Loob and Standard Oil interests is unbroken, and that the control and management of he Union-Southern Pacific system will remain practically unchanged, even if the guiding hand of the builder of this great railroad combination is lacking.

SHIPMENT OF SHEEP.

The federal so-called "28-hour law" The federal so-called "28-hour law" of June 29, 1906, provides for the unloading of cattle, etc., for food, water and rest at the expiration of 28 consecutive hours' transportation, except that the time may be extended to 36 hours by the written request of the shipper. The law provides, however, that it shall not be required that sheep be unloaded in the pictificae, but they be unloaded in the nighttime, but the where the time expires in the night in the case of sheep, the same may be continued in transit to a suitable place continued in transit to a suitable place for unloading, subject to the 36-hour limitation. The United States circuit court of appeals for the Ninth circuit held, in the case of Southern Pacific company vs. the United States, that the provision was not fatally defective for uncertainty, the meaning being that, in case of sheep, if the 28-hour limit expires at night, the transit may be continued to a suitable place for unloading without the consent of the owner or custodian, except that in no owner or custodian, except that in no case shall the 35-hour limit be exceeded. The court further held that the provision authorizing the extension of time by the shipper was not such a delegation of legislative power as would render the law unconstitutional, and that the individual shipment and not the carload was the unit in case of violation of the act.

MOHONK PLATFORM.

MOHONK PLATFORM.

Twenty-seven years have passed since the first Lake Mohonk Indian conference was assembled. Then it was the policy of the nation to push the Indian aside when they were an impediment to national progress; now it is the national policy to incorporate the Indians in the nation and enable them to contribute to the national progress. The most important of the reforms advocated by the conference have been accepted by the nation, especially the abolition of the reservation system, the establishment of a tion system, the establishment of a federal public school system for the education of the Indians and the appli-cation to the Indian service of the civil we reaffirm certain fundamental principles, which the nation's failures and successes in the Indian service have illustrated and enforced. The duty of the American people to establish liberty and justice is the same toward all its non-citizen subjects.

DUTY OF NATION.

Keeping this end ever in mind, it is the duty of the nation to give to all under its authority adequate protection of person and property, whether personal or communal; government by law, not by the will of a provincial ruler, military or civil; courts of law accessible to the poorest and humblest; processes of law prompt, economical and equal in their operations; taxes no heavier than the expenses of their government, economically administered, require; sanitary provisions for the prevention of disease; schools which shall furnish industrial and moral as well as academic instruction; and the inspiration of a religion founded not on the fear, but on the love of God.

This means to the great North DUTY OF NATION

This means to the great North American Indian abolition of the tribal relations in which the fundamental rights of the individual are denied; the rights of the individual are denied; the substitution of personal for tribal prop-erty; the recognition of the Indian's right to travel freely and peaceably and to buy and sell in the open market, and his ultimate admission to American citizenship. It means for the Filipino opening for him the American market, as it has been opened to the Hawaiian and the Porto Rican. INSULAR POSSESSIONS.

It means for the inhabitants of the sular possessions the maintenance of cal self-government as a preparation for future insular self-government and the complete development of an Angio-Saxon system of courts and procedure. And it means for all North American Indians, native races of Alaska, Porto Ricans, Hawaiians, and Pilipinos the ricans. Hawalians, and Filipinos the vigorous prosecution and condign punishment of all men engaged in lawless endeavors to deprive the people of their public or private property, the establishment by law of efficient police regulations to safeguard the people against the vices of civilization, and the improvement of their industries by providing industrial training, developing their resources and promoting easy access to profitable markets.

Finally, it ricents securing well paid agents of unquestionable integrity and approved capacity to represent that matter in the securing agents of unquestionable integrity and tion in its work for the hetterment of these people. It does not necessarily mean either eventual statehood eventual independence for our island possessions. It may mean self-government under American protection as subject to American sovereignty.

But whatever relationship may be established between America and he insular possessions in the future just government must mean for all resolutions. government must mean for under her protection and her sovereignty governmen benefit of the governed, y just and eventual self-s which is the consummation
